Hive Calendar

November through January Nectar Sources:

A few minor blooms

Read, Plan, Repair, Sell

Do not disturb hives. Keep entrances free from ice. Read technical books and journals. Make plans for the coming year: medication, re-queening, equipment purchases, and migrations. Buy, build, and repair woodenware and equipment. Buy the bottles and packaging you will use this year. Package and sell last year's honey and wax. Render old combs into clean wax.

PSBA Beekeeping Classes: Learn "How to Become a Hobby Beekeeper"

PSBA is sponsoring two beginning beekeeper classes for 2012, in February and March.

Class content will include: honeybee physiology and behavior, beekeeping equipment, procedures and best practices, diseases and parasites, and related topics. Classes are taught to a beginner's level of understanding and (NEW!) will include the Washington State Beekeeping Association's Apprentice Beekeeper test and booklet. Each class consists of 10 classroom hours divided into successive Saturdays and a 'hands on' session at the club apiary in mid-April (date tbd).

Advanced registration preferred. Please pay the club treasurer, Bruce Becker, $50 for enrollment in one of the classes:

First class: Saturday 25th of Feb. noon to 5 in Visitor's Center large room (arrive 15 minutes early). And Saturday 3rd of Mar. noon to 5 (arrive early)

Second class: Saturday 17th Mar. noon to 5 in greenhouse (arrive 15 minutes early). And, Saturday 24th Mar. noon to 5 (arrive early)

Master Beekeeper Apprenticeship Test

If you are interested in taking this (open book) test you can purchase the companion booklet for $10 from Krista Conner. Contact: krconner (at) aol.com More information about the certification steps: <http://www.wasba.org/master.htm>
